Social Emotional Learning (SEL)

Empower Your Students with SEL Competencies

Are you a professional working with students aged 7-14 in sectors such as student care, arts education, and sports coaching? Then sign up now for our new Social Emotional Learning courses, conducted in partnership with Julia Gabriel Education, which have been specially curated to guide the nurturing of students' decision-making, self and social awareness, and self-management skills.

The Social-Emotional Competencies Guide helps you to understand and explore a child's strengths and weaknesses, set goals and develop strategies to improve non-cognitive skills. Each of the five key Social Emotional Learning (SEL) skills are taught to educators in five separate short courses that can be stacked to earn a Certificate in Social Emotional Learning. Classes adopt a blended learning mode with both classroom and online lessons.
